X1 5. submitted his prepared statement for the his opening statement and gave several examples of points he was making. Chairman Rose asked the question "when was the rule made that an agent could not participate in a terrorist act?"

He was told that this rule was established roughly three years ago.
Chairman Rose also asked for an indication of the number of times that the Agency has had to withdraw an agent due to the agent's anticipated participation in a terrorist act. He was told roughly 25X three or four times. Mr. Ashbrook was concerned about whether the Agency would be obligated to turn away someone who had engaged in terrorist acts but who wished to volunteer information and was told that we of course will listen to anyone. The Committee also was provided several copies of various publications which the CIA Terrorism Group produces and made a request that the weekly terrorist report classified Secret be provided to the Committee on a weekly basis. Chairman Burlison asked for an estimate of the cost of training provided to foreign liaison services in support of their anti-terrorist efforts. He also asked whether the Agency's training in areas such as VIP protection, airport security, harbor security, executive driving and the like are not redundant of capabilities already existent in the Government.

X1 6. ☐ The Committee indicated that they would be submitting questions to us for answers in the record and these questions will be forthcoming. The only other outstanding question is to respond to Chairman Burlison's inquiry on a cost estimate for training of foreign liaison services encountering terrorism.
